Weekend Features Jazz Band, Dance

A Social Committee dance, an all-College beer party, a jazz concert and a choir program highlight activities for this weekend.

Tomorrow evening the College Choir will hold a joint concert with the Woman's Choral of the University of Pittsburgh. The twenty-seven voice group, under the direction of Colin Sterne, will sing with the Choir Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Chapel.

The Pittsburgh co-eds have been provided with dates with Choir members. They and other students and their dates will entertain themselves that same night at the senior class dance in the Hall of Commons. Admission is free to Social Ticket holders. Dancing from 9 to 1 will be to the music of the Keynoters from Syracuse, who recently played at the freshman class dance.

Early tomorrow afternoon there will be an informal jazz concert and beer party at Delta Phi after the baseball game. The jazz group at Delta Phi will be the same one that was heard at DU during Winter Carnival except for freshman Ron Jabaut, who will play the trumpet.

SPRING ORATORIO—A choral group of 140 voices and a 40-piece orchestra combined on Sunday to present the oratorio "Elijah" in the gymnasium. Nearly 1,500 persons turned out to hear the program, which was directed by Professor Berrian Shute.

The president of a large pharmaceutical firm, an ambassador to the United States, a Hill couple, a humorist, a leader in New York State public utilities and a museum director will receive honorary degrees from Hamilton at the 142nd Commencement on June 8.

It was previously announced by President Robert McEwen that the Honorable Percy C. Spender, Australian ambassador in Washington, will deliver the anual address at the Commencement exercises, when he will also be honored with a Doctor of Laws degree.

Recipients

Other honorary degree recipients this June will be Lee H. Bristol, '14, president of Bristol-Myers Company, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wales Root, E. B. White, well-known contributor to the New Yorker magazine, H. Edmund Machold, director and chairman of the Niagara-Mohawk Power Corporation and Francis H. Taylor, director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, in New York City.

Lee Bristol, a fourth generation Hamilton graduate, is being honored this June with a Doctor of Laws degree.

First Couple

M.r and Mrs. Root are the first couple ever to be honored at the same time on the Commencement platform. Mr. Root, the son of the late Elihu Root, is a 1905 graduate and a one-time lecturer in Art on the campus. Much of the campus beauty is due to Mr. Root's careful landscape planning. Grace Root is distinguished for her work in the temperance field and in many musical and literary activities.

E. B. White is now an editorial writer of The New Yorker, a magazine for which he has served as reporter, free lance writer and contributer since the magazine's beginnings in the twenties. His well-known works include Quo Vadimus, A Sub-

IFC To Question Hill Independents

By Grant Barratt

Independents and Squires Club members will be asked for their opinions on Hamilton's fraternity system next Monday, following an Inter-fraternity Council decision made this week.

Fry Suggestion

Bob Fry suggested to the Council that a questionnaire be submitted to all non-fraternity men to determine specifically their attitude on such matters as the following: construction of a Student Union, establishment of new fraternities, possibly a Jewish fraternity, and an increase in the proportion of fraternity men to independents.

In an interview with The Spectator, Fry made it plain that he hoped that the questionnaire would be answered intelligently and conscienciously, as any irresponsible replies would block constructive analysis of the fraternity system.

New IFC

The results of the questionnaire will be submitted to next year's IFC for consideration.

Two other resolutions were also approved at the meeting, each aimed at increasing the efficiency of the IFC by making more decisions in meetings and taking fewer, if any, matters back to the houses for consideration.

R. Niebanck To Head Hill Christian Group

Richard Niebanck was elected president of the SCA for next year at the organization's meeting Monday night in the Baker Memorial Room. Lyman Stookey was named vice-president, while Harlan Woodfork is the new secretary. Stan Schade was elected treasurer, and Jim Farmer is worship and study chairman.

BOARD MEETING

The Publications Board will hold a meeting in Root 6 at 4:30 p.m. on Monday.

Individualists Yield; Going To Organize; To Operate In Cells

The Spectator received a notice in the mail this week that proudly proclaimed that "A new 'right wing' organization of college men and women, The Intercollegiate Society of Individuals, has just been formed." President of the new group, which will be advised by a Senior Committee of distinguished libertarians, is William F. Buckley, Jr., whose book God and Man at Yale has caused "such a stir in academic circles recently."

According to the circular, "The Society plans to contact students interested in the individualist approach to social problems, primarily for the purpose of organizing discussion groups and study 'cells'."

All "right wing" college students and believers in "the philosophy of individualism" are invited to communicate with its National Headquarters in order to participate in the oranization as charter members.

Dean William Hamilton will deliver the sermon at the weekly Chapel service this Sunday.

speaking on "The Crisis in Christianity." The sophomores spoke extemporaneously.

The freshman class competition resulted in a tie between Calvin Torrance, TKE, and John Ibach, an Alpha Delt. Mem John Ibach, an Alpha Delt. Memorized declamations were given by each. Torrance delivered Churchill's "Iron Curtain" speech of 1946, in which the British leader predicted Russian aggression. Ibach, tapped yesterday for D.T., spoke on the fascination of death in "Death Takes a Holiday."

Critic's Criticism Loudly Criticized

Dear Sir:

In the May 9 issue of The Spectator, you printed what was intended to be a legitimate criticism of the Charlatans' play, Darkness at Noon.

Praises Mrs. Williams

The critic's scale of values: excellent, good, and below standard, would be far more applicable for a used car dealer. What is more, he ignored the outstanding performance by Betty Williams—except to state that she was there, too.

Earlier, the critic states that nothing is realy wrong with the play itself, except for the play itself—and then goes triumphantly on to proclaim that "The author (Sidney Kingsley) is no Shakespeare." One cannot help but wonder whether the critic is informing us that he, too, has read Shakespeare, or whether Shakespeare is the only critical standard which he is capable of applying.

No Atkinson

Again, when criticising Davis' acting, he states that he (Davis) was "out to lunch" for most of the play. This criticism seems indicative only of the profound incompetence and superficiality shown by this critic throughout the article. Brooks Atkinson, drama critic for the New York Times, has even less time in which to write his reviews, and he always manages to do a decent job. But by now it is apparent that the critic is no more like Atkinson than Sidney Kingsley is like Shakespeare.

Who are the oldest beer makers in America?

It depends what you mean by that. If you mean just beer, then the oldest beer makers in history were the Egyptians. They made beer some 5000 years ago.

But if you mean "lager" beer—there's a different answer. The oldest brewer of lager beer in America is Schaefer. We started in 1842. Up until then, beer was cloudy, heavy and bitter—not at all like the clear, light brew you enjoy today.

Because the Schaefer brewers have 110 years of lager beer brewing experience back of them, they give you beer that has the clarity and lightness we moderns want—yet retains a flavor that's positive and true. Try a glass of Schaefer today and enjoy taste and quality that the Pharaohs couldn't buy with all their gold and jewels.

Blue Nine Defeats Hartwick; Bill Galvin Called By Navy

By Jim Moodey

Hamilton's star pitcher, Bill Galvin, was knocked out of the box for the first time this season last week by an unscheduled Continental opponent, Uncle Sam. The big right-hander received a notice of the activation of his Naval Reserve Air unit on Wednesday.

A second line pitcher for the Hillmen until the close of last season, Galvin came into his own this year and has sparked the Continentals to their present four win no loss record.

In Hamilton's opener against Utica College at McConnell Field in April, Galvin stifled the Pioneer bats as the Blue won handily, 12-2. At Schenectady during the next week, Bill relieved Comer Coppie in the first frame after Union had scored three times and set the Dutchmen down with two hits for the next eight innings, only to lose, 4-3, on an unearned tally in the ninth.

Since then Galvin has defeated Rochester, 6-0 and 6-5, and Hartwick, 12-7. Although he has already left for New York to have his case reviewed, Galvin intends to be on hand tomorrow afternoon to hurl possibly his last game for Hamilton against Hartwick.

By Dick Smalley

The Hamilton College baseball team split two games this past week. At home against Hobart last Saturday afernoon, the Continentals weren't up to par as they dropped a 12-6 decision, but Wednesday they came back to whip Hatrwick at Oneonta 12-7.

Starting with only one day of rest, Bill Galvin lasted one scoreless inning against Hobart before he was forced to retire. Bill Cline came in and pitched fairly good ball until the fifth when Hobart bunched three hits, a walk and an error to score four runs and take the lead. Comer Coppie relieved and pitched well until the ninth when Hobart scored four more times, three coming on a home run by Green, the Hobart pitcher.

Blue Gets Lead

Hamilton took a four run lead in the first inning on three infield hits and two Hobart errors. Roger Wood singled, stole second, took third on an error and scored one out later for Hamilton's fourth run in the third inning and singles by Wood, Grant, and George Padgett brought Hamilton their last run.

At Hartwick on Wednesday, singles by Ben Merrick, Dinny Calkins, and Wood, five stolen bases on a Hartwick error brought Hamilton three runs in the first frame. Calkins stole home for the Blue's third run of the inning. Hartwick scored five runs in the second on one solid hit, three walks, an error, and a bunt single.

Galvin, Calkins Triple

Hamilton tallied a run in the third on hits by Wood and Grant and then took the lead with five runs in the fifth. Calkins opened the inning with a triple to deep center field, Wood, Grant, and Marty Fribush followed with singles, Jim Dunn was safe on a fielder's choice, and Galvin closed the inning with a 390 foot triple to left field. Two more runs without a hit in the sixth and one on a single by Merrick in the seventh ended the scoring for Hamilton.

Galvin pitched well as usual, striking out twelve men and allowing six hits. He walked five men. According to all reports, the Hartwick game was Galvin's last game for Hamilton as he is slated to enter the Naval Air Reserve.

Rochester Breaks Hill Victory Skein With Net Triumph

Last Saturday afternoon on the local courts Hamilton College's tennis team dropped their first contest in eighteen outings when they were edged by the University of Rochester, 5-4. After the two clubs had split the six singles matches, the Continentals dropped two of the three doubles contests to lose the match.

For Hamilton, Jack Banks, Rod Gander and Dan Goodstein won the numbers one, two and six singles matches respectively. Banks and Gander teamed to take the number one doubles sets, thus giving the Blue a 4-3 advantage with two doubles matches to play. After the Rivermen had evened the contest by winning the number two doubles from Howie Brigham and Phil Hills, they downed Tom Arthur and Goodstein in hard-fought sets, 6-3, 7-5, to gain the victory for Rochester.

On Wednesday on the asphalt courts in Utica, Coach Mox Weber's netmen returned to

Lacrossemen Bow To Kenyon; To Engage Cortland Tomorrow

By Ron Krauss

Hamilton's lacrosse squad will be out to climb above the .500 mark when they invade Cortland for a return match with John MacPhee's Dragons tomorrow. The Continentals already have hung a 12-5 defeat upon Cortland who have lost five games this season without a win. Coach John Panatier's Continentals also will be seeking to avenge the record-setting total goals against a Hamilton team which Cortland scored in their 19-9 victory last spring.

Cortland has absorbed five one-sided defeats this season, but has played teams of high calibre. Besides the Hamilton defeat, the Dragons have been beaten by Hobart twice, Syracuse and Hofstra.

Kenyon Topples Blue

Last Saturday, a powerful Kenyon team broke loose in the third period to come from behind and score a 14-11 victory here. The two teams battled evenly to a 4-4 half-time score. Hamilton scored three times in the first two minutes of the third period to take a 7-4 lead, but then the roof fell in. Although goalie Jake Sweet repelled shot after shot, Kenyon finally broke through to score five consecutive goals in the final five minutes of the period.

Walter Crosier, ADP, wins a carton of cooler smoking CHESTERFIELDS for his guess of 6,500 beans in the CHESTER-LEG contest.

Blue Golfers Bow To Union, R. P. I.

During the past week, Coach Don Jones' Continental golfers won one of three matches to bring their season's record to three wins and two defeats. Last weekend Hamilton dropped two close decisions, one to R.P.I. at Troy by a 5-4 count, and another to Union, 5½ - 3½, at Schenectady. Wednesday afternoon on the local links the Blue defeated Hobart, 7-2.

In the Hobart tourney, the Continentals won three matches and halved two to insure victory. Al Persons, Joe Bugliari and Dave Doty defeated their Statesmen opponents, while Byrne Kinney and Charlie Persons finished even with their Hobart rivals. Hobart's lone win came in a close number six match over Don Robertson.

The Continental golfers travelled to Rochester today for a return tilt with the Yellowjackets. In the earlier match between the two teams, Hamilton won a disputed 5-4 decision on the local links.
